Check to see if POST requires anything: requires a JSON body to be sent along with it. In this case no header is needed

What data type does GET return: array of objects in JSON notation

Delete post 555: <https://practiceapi.devmountain.com/api/posts/555>

Response codes from /posts/filter: Error Status 409. Body shows its missing query text property

Post in api/posts and have your name be the text: <https://practiceapi.devmountain.com/api/posts>
body: {"text": "NATE DOGG"}

Update name to favorite color:

<https://practiceapi.devmountain.com/api/posts?id=6919> body: {"text": "Green"}

Get posts with text blue URL: <https://practiceapi.devmountain.com/api/posts/filter?text=blue>

What are the content type and charset of get all posts: Content/type = application/JSON and charset is UTF 8

What would make a PUT have a status of 409: Not including an ID as part of the endpoint, or having an empty text key in your object body

Query in the GET request URL: The GET request still works, it just ignores the unused query
